THE WALL

The great American poet Robert Frost wrote "Something there is that doesn't love a wall", but at Maury High School that certainly isn't true. Everybody loves the wall. Students sit on it, lean on it, hang on it, and talk over it. "Something that doesn't love a wall" -- not at Maury.

THE BAND

The Commodore Band has always been very well-organized and strong, thanks to Dr. Utley. He works with them several weeks rehearsing for half-time at the games. The band does especially well at half-times, but when it comes to the homecoming game they really know how to put on a show. The band has taken several theme songs of various television shows and made routines for half-time. No other school has done this which is why Maury's band can provide the best entertainment at football game.

SKI CLUB

This year the Maury Ski Club again traveled to Elk Mountain, Pennsylvania for three days of skiing. Although the conditions were far from excellent, the moguls were good and most of their time was spent spreading eagles and backscratching down the slopes. The beginners tried to master the art of getting on the chair-lift gracefully. After long days of skiing, the tired, sore skiers went back to the hotel to kick back and relax, which covered a variety of activities ranging from running up to the Giant for . . . . whatever, to sitting around in a hot tub. On this trip everyone did their own thing and had a great time.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club has certainly been successful during its first year in existence. This club has been busy establishing itself with the student body. Under the guidance of Mrs. Beth Sizert, the Spanish Club raises money for the school's benefit and induces membership drives. The club is now looking forward to a trip planned for the end of the year.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club, Maury's Classiest organization, is a branch of the Junior Classical League. This year we attended the state convention in Roanoke, and returned with a third place ribbon for oratory (won by Penny Mihalap). The club sponsored a Mythology tour at Chrysler Museum for the families of members, The Oedipus Rex film series, a trip to Washington, and one to the Virginia Museum in Richmond. We took time to contribute to the Thanksgiving baskets and to the Joy Fund. Fortasse to cum nobis in proxime anno eris!

SENIORS

This year's Senior Class was exceptionally gifted. Mr. Watson and the participating seniors did a great job. They held dances, planned the prom, and raised money for the senior trip. The officers were very active in all projects and should be commended for their leadership.

THE STAFF

The Commodore Yearbook Staff made another move towards a higher achievment this year. Under the guidance of Editor Martha Bean, the Staff struggled to meet deadlines but always seemed to pull through. Month after month deadlines seemed shorter. Though the staff has had many problems involving time and money, it has provided the student body with another annual to look back upon.

THE OLYMPIANS; SPORTS

MATTER OF TIME

Football at Maury has improved over the last few years. A new winning attitude, as well as a new veer offense, has increased overall participation in the sport. If support from the student body and faculty continues, it will be just a matter of time before Maury will be participating in a championship game.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS OF '80

With the leadership of captains Terri Snipp and Avis Parker, this year's Varsity Cheerleaders have done a very commendable job of supporting Maury's many activities. Of course, Cheerleading is fun, but it also involves hard work and practice. This year's squad made their many hours of practice pay off. Mrs. Baker should be proud of them. Demonstrating their spirit throughout the year, the girls proved that they "LOVE THEIR COMMODORES."

A SOURCE OF ENTHUSIASM

"The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are great!" Once again the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders proved this familiar chant to be true. Not only did they support wholeheartedly the J.V. games, but they also lent enthusiasm to many of the varsity activities.

Maury swimmers continue to be a strong threat to all other competing teams. Although both boys and girls have new coaches, they seem to have adjusted to the change well. Track and Field at Maury has been on the upswing since I've been here. The track performers have been working very hard for the school and the results have been obvious. Last year Maury not only won the Eastern District, but advanced to the Regional and State meets. This year's team plans to repeat last year's success.

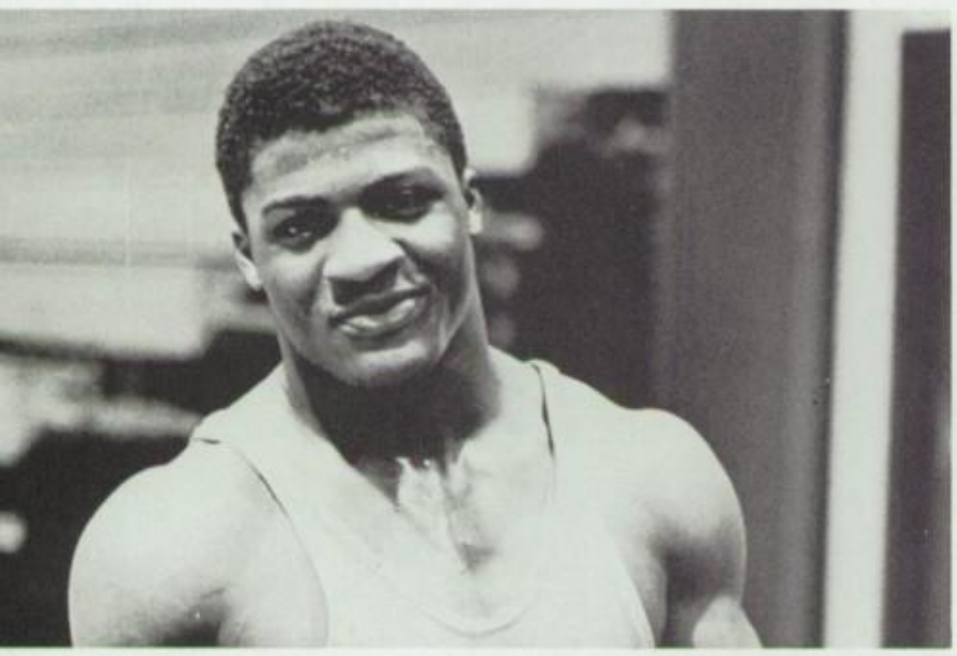
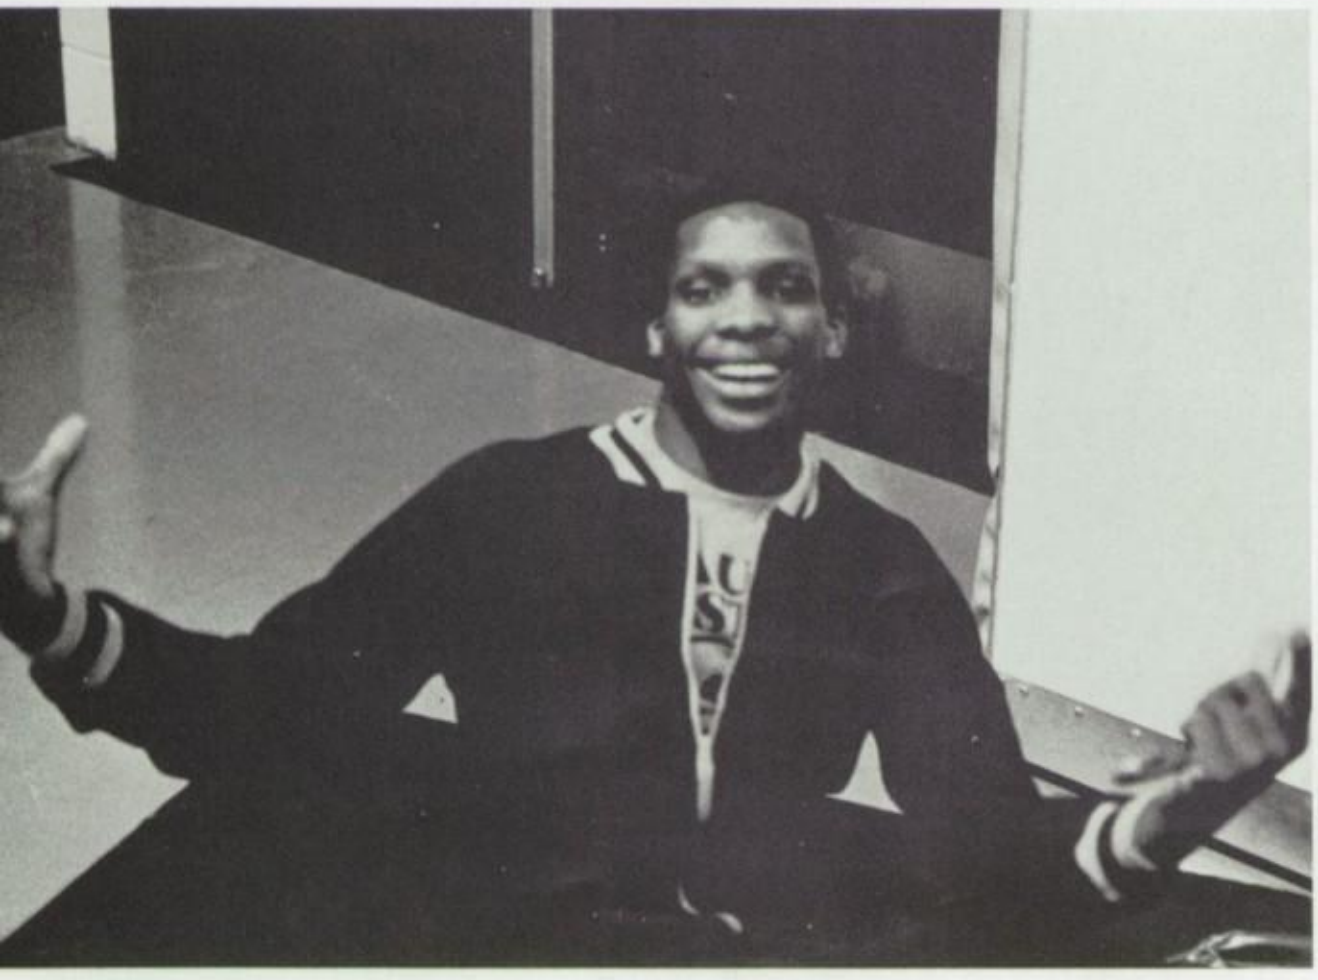
SIGNING ON THE DOTTED LINE

"Sir, Sign on that dotted line . . . yes, all three copies." Maury student-athletes have been filling those dotted lines with great regularity this year. William Moxley, All-State tackle, signed onto the North Carolina State ship with a full scholorship. Alvin Parker is headed for Appalachian State and Robert Fayton is bound for Howard. Quinton Moore and Mike Manley, the backcourt twins of Commodore Basketball, are still undecided.





ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

John Davis is the Norfolk Sports Club Athlete of the Year in Tidewater. This award is the crowning honor to John's storied atheltic career at Maury. His other honors include at least three State Wrestling Titles (all at different weights) and a berth on the All-Metro Football Team. John is now the number one ranked wrestler in Tidewater and headed for his fourth State Title.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Maury's baseball team didn't have an exiting season last year, but according to this year's player's a big come back is in the air. Baker's orange and blue team says "Watch Out" for the commodore's baseball team because we're going all the way.

Although their record was not the best, they developed new members of the team who will be sure to make many victories in the coming years. Coached by Tom Bashara the team shows much promise for the future seasons, Perhaps in the near future they will regain their status as Champions of the Eastern District.

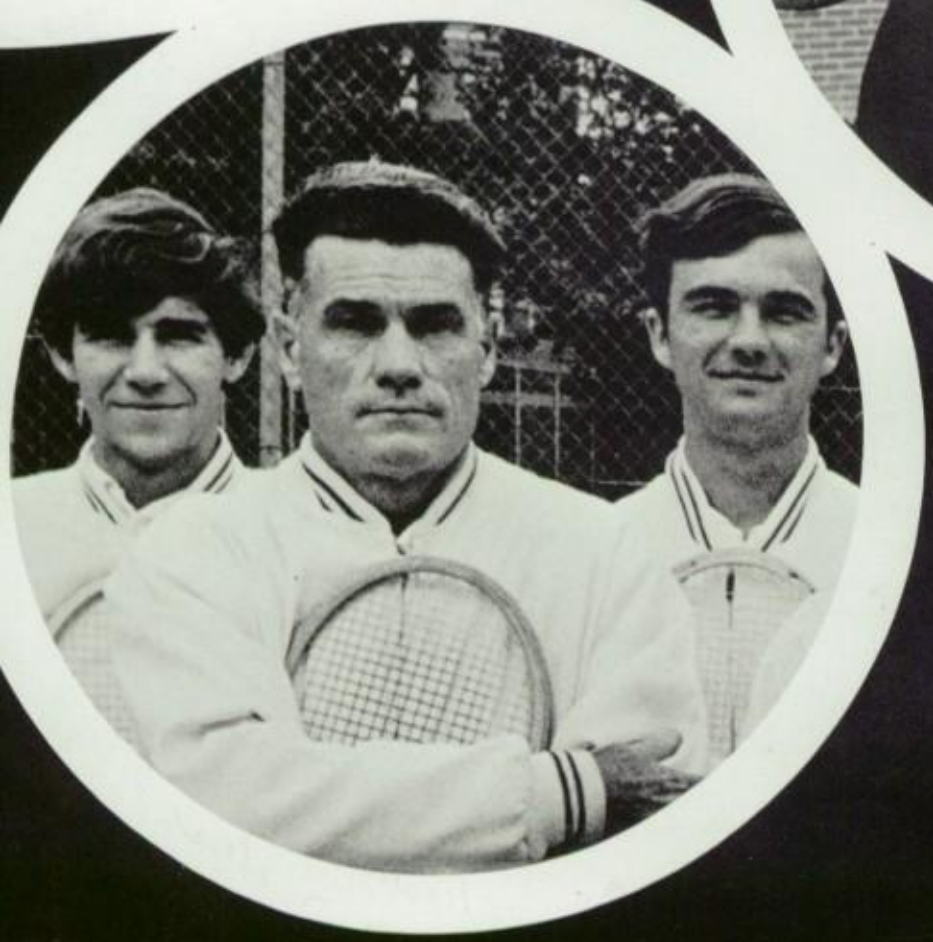
THE JUDGES; FACULTY



THE MAN BEHIND THE SCENE

Dr. Frank Sellew, Maury's new Principal, is one of the most energetic administrators in the City of Norfolk. Adorned with his now traditional orange necktie, he can be found at nearly every Maury function from a football game to a spaghetti dinner. If you want to find him during the school day, you'd better check the hallways, cafeteria, and the wall before you look in his office. He's a man on the move. This year he is assisted in the office by Mr. Baker, Mr. Banks, Mr. Reddy, and Mr. Street.

SUPPORTING CAST

The purpose of the custodians here at Maury is to create and maintain a suitable environment for the students and faculty. They have done this for many years. These people devote their time handling the maintenance of our school and its surroundings. You're in the limelight, custodians!

SNOW, SNOW, SNOW

SNOW . . . in a Maury yearbook? Yes, snow makes its first appearance in the yearbook. Usually snow does not show up around Norfolk before the last yearbook deadline; however, this year snow first appeared on stage in Norfolk on January fifth (3.8 inches), then it made curtain calls on January thirty-first (5.1 inches), February sixth (12.2 inches), and February eighth (6.5 inches). The 12.2 inches of snow was the most to fall in Norfolk in a twenty-four hour period in a century. "Better watch your step, the sidewalks are slippery."

STUDENTS PROTEST

In a daring attempt to show their patriotism, some students from our beloved high school marched from Maury to Old Dominion University. The students did so to display their anger at the situation of the American hostages in Tehran (Iran). The fifty hostages have been held against their will for over 100 days. Hopefully, they will be released before this yearbook is published.

JUNIOR CLASS: THE CLASS OF 1981

Although the Junior class was off to a bad start this year without any officers until January, they have made a great comeback. Under the guidance of Ms. Porter, the Juniors have sold candy and have sponsored a dance to raise money. The Junior class should promise to make an outstanding Senior class next year. Make way for the class of '81 Commodores!!

GOVERNMENT AT WORK . . . M.A.S.B.

The Maury Associated Student Body represents the views of the students to the administration of the school. It addresses itself to the concerns of the entire student body. These students are also officers of the legislative council. The M.A.S.B. discusses such topics as the function of the cafeteria, the magnet school, and the crisis in Iran. The M.A.S.B. also sponsors Homecoming each year.

Dawn,
It's been great knowing you in the short time I have. I've observed your warmth and enthusiasm, not to mention your inhibitions of fame and fortune. You'll go places and be somebody! Just keep up the academic struggle! Have a Good Summer and Good Luck always! God Bless you, too!
